Don Bassett

Men's Basketball | 1992-03

A legend in area basketball circles who taught the game for more than 60 years at every conceivable level, Don Bassett was an assistant coach in name only as he selflessly mentored Golden Knights student-athletes throughout his tenure. In addition, he helped guide Saint Rose to more than 200 wins that encompassed seven NCAA Tournament appearances including three trips to the "Elite Eight" between 1996 and 1999. The Golden Knights also won four New York Collegiate Athletic Conference titles between 1995 and 2000 and advanced to the Northeast-10 Conference postseason tournament from 2001-03. He also coordinated the sponsorships of the basketball radio broadcasts and served as the Tournament Director for the renowned Capital Key Classic, which was considered one of the nation's most prestigious in-season Division II basketball tournaments throughout its eight-year run.

Lindsay Bove

Women's Soccer | 2004-07

Among the most decorated midfielders in the esteemed annals of Saint Rose women's soccer, Lindsay Bove was a four-time Northeast-10 Conference (NE10) All-League pick who garnered first-team accolades three times. In addition, she was twice chosen both a National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) and Daktronics All-East honoree. Lindsay closed out her career 14th all-time in program annals in points (71) and goals (27), tied for 16th in assists (17), and eighth in games started (84). She was a member of four squads that won nearly 80 percent (62-12-10) of their matches and was part of three NCAA Tournament teams, the 2007 NE10 Championship squad, and the 2005 Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) title team.

Cathi DeSimone-Greiner

Swimming and Diving | 1989-93

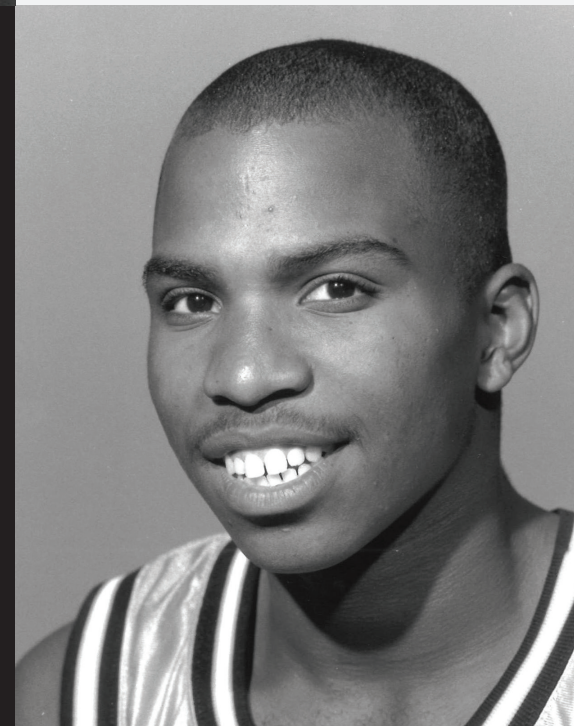

Among the Golden Knights most accomplished female swimmers throughout the program's inaugural decade, Cathi DeSimone-Greiner graduated owning six school records and a pair of Saint Rose individual pool standards. She was also part of two pool record holding relay contingents. Cathi set school records in the 200, 500, 1,000, and 1,650-yard freestyles, and both the 200 and 400 individual medleys. She furthermore held the 200 free and 200 breaststroke pool standards, along with the 200 and 400 free relay pool records. As a junior, the team captain finished among the top-30 in the 100 breaststroke at the New England Championships.

Jermaine Henderson

Men's Basketball | 1994-98

Jermaine Henderson was part of a dominating era of Golden Knights men's basketball, which went 109-21 throughout his four-year career on the way to winning three New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC) titles. In addition, he was part of four NCAA Tournament teams, including the 1996 "Elite Eight" and the 1998 National Semifinal squads that were previously inducted into the Hall of Fame. Jermaine was named MVP of the 1998 NCAA Northeast Regional after he scored 33 points to lead Saint Rose to a 97-87 victory versus Stonehill. Henderson garnered NYCAC All-Conference accolades and was named an Eastern Basketball All-Star as a senior. He closed out his career fifth all-time in school annals in scoring (1,654), third in free throws made (464), and tied for 12th in steals (163).

Lauren Revesz

Women's Basketball | 2006-09

Lauren Revesz spent two years in a Golden Knights uniform after transferring from Ohio University. She immediately established herself as one of the most dominating frontcourt players in program history, while helping lead Saint Rose to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances. Lauren was a State Farm Coaches' Honorable Mention All-American, a Northeast-10 Conference (NE10) first-team All-League pick and an Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) first-team All-Region selection as a senior when she finished second in the NE10 with a 17.2 scoring average. She also recorded a 6.3 rebounding average and set a single-season school record by converting 87.1 percent (115-for-132) of her free throws, while leading the Golden Knights to a 20-11 record. As a junior, she earned second-team All-Conference accolades after finishing fifth among the league leaders with 15.0 points per game. She closed her career by making a school record 84.4 percent (200-of-237) of her free throw attempts.
